

I'm an XM Radio subscriber. The area of the country where I live and work has a limited number of radio stations and reception in some areas is virtually nil. XM Radio allows me to listen to news, weather, and entertainment at the turn of the dial regardless of my location. If NAB is so threatened by XM then perhaps they should do something to enhance their transmission quality and improve their programming.

Thank you.